Income Series – Low

01

The Income Series – Low is a low risk service and is our recommended starting point for those new to investing in stock and options. This market report provides protection for your shares, limiting your risk, in addition to allowing you to gain a steady monthly income without requiring the shares to rise in value.

Income Series – Medium

02

The Income Series – Medium is a medium risk service and is one of the most popular ways to receive a monthly income (or rent) from your shares, without requiring the shares to rise in value. At the same time, the Income Series – Medium will also give you a little downside protection as well from the monthly income generated.

Hedge Series

03

The Hedge Series is a medium risk service with a great probability of a profitable position. Through the leverage of options this service gives you the flexibility of bringing in a monthly premium without having to own the actual stock.

Platinum Spread – Medium

04

The Platinum Spread – Medium is a medium risk service which allows the investor access to the benefits of trading against indices, combined with the high probability for success of non-directional trading and the leveraged returns of options. The Platinum Spread – Medium utilises credit spreads, which enables the investor to enter the trading position with a credit to your account.

Platinum Spread – High

05

The Platinum Spread – High is a high risk, is designed for the sophisticated investor who wants all the benefits of trading against indices, combined with the leveraged returns of options. The Platinum Spread – High utilises credit spreads with low risk/reward ratios, giving the investor the potential to experience incredible returns every month.

Q4 Reflex

06

The Q4 Reflex is a high risk service that takes advantage of the fast moving tech sector by trading in the NASDAQ top 100 companies index (QQQQ). You get the protection of the broader market as we are not just trading one stock. Take your trading portfolio into overdrive with this fast moving technology index. The Q's is a great way to get maximum return on investment.

Power Writer

07

The Power Writer is our highest risk service which gives you the ability to ramp up your returns by using the leverage that is available to each investor. The Power Writer, through using naked puts, is a powerful way of generating income whether the stock goes up, down or sideways.

*Conditions apply. Subscribers will need to have a funded account with online Trading Broker, ThinkorSwim.
